STABILIZATION COMMITTEE TO JOIN B.C.F.G.A.

But It Will Continue Organization Work Until Marketing Plan Is Completed

The Growers' Stabilization Committee will become a committee of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association, but it will continue with its organization work until plans are completed for the marketing of the 1934 crop. Necessary amendments to the constitution of the B.C.F.G.A. will be made later.

Decision that this merger should take place was reached at a meeting of the chairman and the various committees working under the Stabilization Committee, held in Kelowna on Monday, when the advisability of consolidating the work of the two bodies was thoroughly discussed. Formal ratification will have to be given by the B.C.F.G.A., which has already indicated that it favours the amalgamation.

It is estimated that the Stabilization Committee will collect about $2,000 more on the levy on the 1933 crop. Levies collected as at April 30th, 1934, amount to $9,451.61, with expenditures totalling $8,579.56, leaving a cash balance on hand of $872.05, out of which the sum of $200 will be paid immediately to the publishers of Country Life, to whom over $400 is owing by the B.C.F.G.A.

The operating statement, audited by Mr. R. Cheyne, was presented by Mr. R. F. Borrett, who was delegated to visit the packing houses that have not yet paid the levy authorized by the growers and endeavour to collect.

It was decided not to hold the public meetings scheduled for this week and at which it was intended to ask the growers if they preferred a three-man Board of growers or a mixed Board of growers and shippers. These meetings have been deferred until Mr. Haskins, who was appointed to go to Ottawa for the special meeting of the Canadian Horticultural Council on May 9th and to be on hand when the Marketing Bill goes into committee for final amendments, returns to Kelowna. It was the general feeling that it was not worth while going to the expense of holding these meetings until more information was available from Ottawa.

Mr. O. W. Hembling, who has been extremely active in the effort to secure legislation, will also go to Ottawa, presumably at the expense of Associated Growers. Major McGuire goes as representative of all the shippers in the 1933 Stabilization Board.

Position Of B.C.F.G.A.

At the opening of the meeting, which was held in the office of the Growers' Stabilization Committee, Mr. Haskins, the chairman, explained that the meeting had been called to decide what should be done with the Committee. While some of those present were members of the executive of the B.C.F.G.A. and the discussion would involve the B.C.F.G.A. informally, they could not decide what the B.C.F.G.A. should do in the matter of amalgamation. The B.C.F.G.A. had carried on during 1933 on ordinary subscription fees, and it had a full time Secretary and travelling expenses to pay. It now had no money but it had substantial liabilities; it owed over $400 to Country Life and $300 to the publisher's salary—between $750 and $800 in all. The growers had been worrying about what to do with these two organizations. There were two or three ways to meet the situation: the Stabilization Committee could absorb the B.C.F.G.A., the B.C.F.G.A. could absorb the Committee, or they could continue separately. He was of the opinion, however, that if a growers' Board was set up under legislation, one organization could do all the work for the fruit growers. The difference between the Stabilization Committee and the B.C.F.G.A. was that all growers were members of the committee but not the B.C.F.G.A. He stated that the financial statement of the Committee had been prepared, but he did not think it should be published at that time.

Capt. Jenkinson, of Summerland, did not agree. He declared that the executive had been working on its own since last October and had not consulted the committee at large. The statement of finances should be published.

Mr. Haskins replied that any chairman could have a statement made up covering the information he required, and any questions would be answered. Mr. East, of Keremeos, thought that, if each chairman took back a statement to his growers, that would be satisfactory, while Mr. DeHart felt that the statement should be published.

Question Raised Of Mandate
Capt. Jenkinson remarked that the Committee was formed for the marketing of the 1933 crop. Any authority the executive had taken to carry on since January was on their own assumption.

Mr. Haskins replied that meeting after meeting had been held all over the country. It was ridiculous to say that there had been no reference to the growers, but they had no constitution to guide them.

Mr. King, of Kaleden, understood that the executive was to proceed with a plan for 1934, as it had done, while Mr. D. Godfrey Isaacs, of Okanagan, said there could be no questioning the fact that the growers had authorized the executive to go ahead with a plan.

To Mr. Gore, who was under the impression that the office was supposed to be closed before now, Mr. Haskins said that he understood that

PET PARADE FOR EMPIRE DAY HERE

It Is Hoped To Repeat Success Achieved Last Year

The Gyro Club Empire Day Pet Parade was such a huge success last year that it will be repeated this year. Another large gathering of the elite of the animal kingdom will take place in Kelowna City Park on May 24th in conjunction with the big sports programme being arranged by the Gyros for Empire Day.

The thoroughbred bull pup will march in line with the mongrel whose parentage is not of record nor of interest to his proud owner. The alley cat and the fondled aristocratic Persian will toe the line at the bar of judgment, and judgment will be based on their values as pets to some boy or girl. Many a mongrel dog has proved himself to be of true blood when his master was in danger, but seldom is there an honour roll on which his name might be inscribed. Every real boy will be proud to enter his pet in the big parade. The girls have their pets too, and they belong to almost as many classes as those of the boys.

The parade will be open to practically every kind of pet, and entry forms will be circulated through the schools in the district within the next week. There is no obligation and no charge for entries. Further details will be announced later.

SALVATION ARMY SELF-DENIAL WEEK

Annual Appeal To Sympathizers To Be Made May 5th to 12th

The Salvation Army will make its annual self-denial appeal from May 5th to 12th, which will be observed as Self-Denial Week. A large-scale campaign will be conducted in the Kelowna district during the week.

Ensign Hammond, who is stationed at Kelowna, issues the following appeal:

"Every day the call of thousands of those who have fallen is reaching the Salvation Army officers throughout this land."

"Whatever the cause of individual distress may be, the fact remains that every such case is a demand on the sympathy of our workers and an added strain on our resources. From Halifax to Vancouver such calls are accumulating. Men and women who seek shelter in our homes, the sick who find healing in our hospitals and the soul-distressed who seek our ministry, are all deserving of the greatest support that you can offer."

"We appeal to you with all the emphasis that the actual facts of need demand, and trust that, with a vision of this need, you will respond to the very limit of your ability."

Further information is obtainable from Ensign Hammond.

The executive had practically a unanimous mandate to go ahead with a plan.

Mr. Fitzpatrick, of Oliver, had heard no suggestion that they should break up until they knew where they were at for the coming season. It was not the wish of the growers that the growers' movement should disband.

Mr. Haskins remarked that Penticton had suggested that the office should be closed months ago. He explained that a plan was brought out in January, several public meetings were held, the details of the plan were drafted. Meetings were held with shippers, and after the decision in the Crestland case, the shippers seemed more disposed to assist them with a voluntary plan. If the office had been closed in January, there would have been no one to do these things.

Capt. Jenkinson admitted that planning had been necessary. If the Stabilization Committee had been amalgamated earlier with the B.C.F.G.A., which was recognized by the government as the official body of the growers, the work could have been done under the head of the B.C.F.G.A.

Mr. Haskins pointed out that considerable opposition had arisen as the B.C.F.G.A. had been disorganized for taking part in the Central Selling campaign. The time was not ripe for a merger; all their time had been spent on preparing and furthering a plan, which was the important thing. He thought that the B.C.F.G.A. was willing to have the Stabilization Committee merged with it; it was now up to the Committee to decide.

In reply to Mr. Isaacs, who said that he understood this was to be a joint meeting of the two bodies, Mr. Haskins said that members of both organizations, which would total twenty-one men, were not brought there on that day for reasons of efficiency. The financial situation should be discussed, including his own, had paid their levies in full, while others had not.

It was moved by Capt. Jenkinson and Mr. F. R. E. DeHart that the financial statement be given to the press for publication as the growers were entitled to know what monies had been received and how they were spent. The motion carried.

Estimate Of Levy Revenue Excessive
As the estimated total revenue was given as $17,500, of which had been

Associated Growers Will Support Three-man Board

EXECUTIVE DECIDES TO ADHERE TO MARKETING SCHEME FORMULATED BY GROWERS' STABILIZATION COMMITTEE

Associated Growers of British Columbia will support the plan for a Stabilization Committee in pressing for a local Board of three growers to be set up under the Natural Products Marketing Act. This decision was reached at a meeting of the executive of the co-operative organization held in Vernon last week. It is suggested that a Shippers' Advisory Council of four, as provided for in the latest plan approved by the Stabilization Committee, shall also be set up to act in an advisory capacity to the governing Board.

The following statement was issued on Friday to all locals of the Associated Growers by Mr. L. J. Chambers, President of that organization:

"The 1934 marketing situation is beginning to clarify a little, although apparently some distance yet from final solution."

"During the past month, numerous meetings have been held between various interests in the hope of some plan being worked out that would be acceptable to at least a big majority. The main interests are represented by four factors:

1. The Growers' Stabilization Committee, which at present at least must be presumed to represent a big percentage of the growers;
2. The Grower-shippers, who claim to control approximately 1,000 cars;
3. The independent shippers who, as well as conducting packing and selling operations, in many instances also operate orchards and other enterprises in this respect of possibly 500 cars;
4. The Associated Growers.

"Up to the present time the Associated has adopted the policy of supporting some plan that would insure greatest volume of support and this appeared to be a continuation of the present Stabilization Board under the joint control of a committee of growers and shippers."

"It must be admitted that the Associated Growers is a growers' organization and should be classed as growers and there can be no argument in respect to the grower-shippers being a grower."

"It was proposed that a joint board be established consisting of two growers elected by the growers, one representative from the Associated Growers, one from the grower-shippers and two from the independent shippers, with a chairman elected by the six, who would be Chairman of the Board and Manager of the Stabilization Board. The grower-shippers and independent shippers were prepared to accept this arrangement and it was also endorsed by the writer subject to confirmation by the Directors. This proposal was not satisfactory to the Growers' Stabilization Committee, and they have definitely taken the stand that the control committee must be composed exclusively of grower representatives, and have suggested that an advisory committee of shippers be asked to co-operate with them in rendering assistance and advice in dealing with the various problems that will arise."

"The Executive considered the whole question fully yesterday and decided that, in view of the impossibility of all four factors being in agreement on the question of a joint board, the Associated Growers should support the Growers' Stabilization Committee's proposal, and a resolution to this effect was passed."

"The Executive also reaffirmed the opinion expressed a number of times by the Board of Directors and by the Executive that maximum results will not be obtained until some measure of centralization is brought about that will eliminate the present competitive system of marketing and replace it with a centralized office that will have complete charge of sales and distribution."

MINIMUM WAGES FOR CANNING AND PACKING

VICTORIA, May 3.—A new scale of minimum wages for female employees in the canning, preserving, drying and packing of fruit and vegetables, effective May 18th, has been set by the Board of Industrial Relations.

Experienced female employees, including those with two months experience, are to be paid 27 cents an hour for the first eight hours in any day, 40 cents an hour for any time over eight hours and up to twelve hours, and 54 cents an hour for every hour in excess of twelve hours.

Inexperienced female employees, with less than two months experience, are to be paid 25 cents an hour for the first eight hours, 37 1/2 cents an hour for overtime between eight and twelve hours, and 50 cents an hour for each hour in excess of twelve.

INSURGENTS SLAY RULER OF YEMEN

CAIRO, May 3.—Confirmation has been received here of the outbreak of a revolt in Yemen, Arabia. The insurgents attacked the palace of the sovereign and killed the ruler.

At DEN, May 3.—British planes left today for Camaran Island to protect British lives and property in Yemen, where fighting is in progress.

BRITISH LIBERALS NOT TO JOIN WITH LABOUR

BOURNEMOUTH, England, May 3.—No coalition with Labour was the keynote of Ramsay Muir's address from the presidential chair at the opening here today of the national conference of the Liberal party. He was emphatic that to order Liberals in the elections to go in favour of Labourites was simply party suicide.

collected $9,451, Mr. Haskins said that there was nothing like another $8,000 to come in. The estimate was an extravagant one. The Vernon Fruit Union still owed $1,200, and he had discussed this with Mr. W. Hembling and Mr. E. J. Chambers, of Associated Growers. Mr. Hembling had gone to Ottawa in recent months as the representative of the B.C.F.G.A., which had no money to pay his expenses; he was there to assist all the growers in getting their levies paid. The growers saw no reason why they should pay all his expenses. They suggested that his expenses, which amounted to $800, should be deducted from the $1,200 owing to the Stabilization Committee. This seemed reasonable as the growers' work was being carried on by both the B.C.F.G.A. and the Committee and it would be nonsense to quarrel on which organization should pay.

On motion by Messrs. King, Kaleden, and W. B. Gore, Westbank, the deduction was authorized. The further discussion of finances, Mr. Haskins pointed out that, until recently, Mr. Borrett's salary had

PRAIRIE VIEW OF ECONOMIC CONDITIONS

Leader Of Alberta Opposition Addresses Rotary Club In Vein Of Optimism

In a half-hour address to the Rotary Club of Kelowna on Tuesday last week, Mr. M. Duggan, Leader of the Opposition in the Alberta Legislature, pleaded for more patience with the legislators of the country and less criticism of those who were striving to the best of their ability to enact measures for the general good, outlining some of the difficulties which confront them.

At the outset, Mr. Duggan referred to his previous visits to Kelowna during the past twenty years, some of them very happy and others not so happy, especially when his brother had passed away here a few months ago. Of two Rotarians at the luncheon, Dr. Knox and "Jimmy" Jones, he had heard a lot from Kelownians who had visited Edmonton. It appeared that one of them looked after the physical well-being of the inhabitants and the other after their financial well-being. However, he had seldom heard of any one looking after the spiritual welfare of the community, and it had been left to him to find out by going on Sunday to the United Church, where, with the aid of an efficient interpreter, he could receive the necessary spiritual comfort from one who was also at that meeting.

Taking for the title of his address, "The General Trend of Economic Conditions As We See Them," the speaker said in part:

"On the prairies we come in contact with almost every phase of life, and more particularly that of the farming element, and therefore we get a fairly good idea of what people throughout the country are thinking. There is now an entirely new appreciation of improved conditions and an evidence of confidence not seen formerly, when the prairie people had lost hope, were crushed by a burden of debt and had a spirit of abandonment. All this has largely been removed. Conditions do not really show any tangible difference, but there is a feeling of optimism everywhere."

"People like to kick at the government and we are not as fair to it as we ought to be. There had been vast difficulties to overcome which no one had contemplated a few years ago. I have been very critical of the Premier on his unemployment problem. The unemployment job is a very large one, and should be left to the municipalities, provinces and the Dominion to share; it should all come under one head instead of being divided up in the way it has been."

"Our general attitude is that we are always very critical, and it is only now that I have a clearer vision of the tremendous difficulties the government has had. The government had a scheme of a work programme for the unemployed, but this had been changed to direct relief, which many people thought was wrong. However, as soon as the government got its work programme ready, money became very tight. The United States refused to lend us money, the federal government simply could not get funds and the country was left to stand on its own resources. The Dominion had refunded some of its debt, and this was loaned to the provinces but it did not do very far. No other money could be obtained, so the work programme had to be cut down. Some months later, Canada got $75,000,000 in England at a low rate of interest, and ever since that time things have been improving gradually, and at the present time the country can get money lower than almost any other."

"How has this been brought about? Many people believe in a short cut and want to try new principles of finance that are unknown to us. However, by following sound principles, the position of the Dominion is better than that of most countries. How are we going to continue to finance our provinces and the municipalities? There is only one way, whether we like it or not. All the provinces are part of the Dominion and, if one province cracks up, the rest will go along with it. Our only way out is to pursue the orthodox methods of putting our house in order and then make up our minds that we will not spend above our means. There is no new way to restore stability. We must adhere to the old and tried ways, tough though it may be."

"Some time ago, certain individuals made statements as to what they were going to do, and the credit of Canada dropped immediately. Later, other policies arose out of the Dominion-Provincial Conference, wherein it was stated that no province could default, and the credit of the country was restored immediately. The suggestion of new ways of financing had instantly affected our credit adversely. As we are a part of Confederation, we must remain a part; and one part of a thing goes rotten without affecting the whole."

"I suggest that Rotary should see that those in power adhere rigidly to those actions that are to the benefit of all Canada."

"Many changes will be made and many problems will be studied which will result in much good legislation. At the present time, for instance, amendments are being made to the Bankruptcy Act."

"All provinces are having their difficulties. In Alberta, we have not had

STORES MAY CLOSE AT FIVE O'CLOCK

Change Necessary To Comply With "Hours Of Work Act"

To conform with the "Hours of Work Act," which provides that no employee shall work for more than 48 hours in any week, all those governed by the Shops Regulation Act must fix a schedule for opening and closing their stores that will not violate the law in this respect.

At a special general meeting called by the Retail Merchants Bureau in the Kelowna Board of Trade room on Tuesday evening, a schedule was drawn up in which the hours of opening and closing were set as follows: Stores to open at 8 a.m. and close at 5 p.m., except Thursdays, when stores close at 12 o'clock noon, and Saturdays, when stores close at 10 p.m. This allows employees an hour for the noon-day meal, except on Thursdays, and for the evening meal on Saturdays.

This schedule, which would be applicable the year round, has been set forth in a petition which is now being circulated by Mr. E. W. Barton, Secretary of the Board of Trade. The petition requires the signatures of 75 per cent. of the shop owners affected before it becomes effective.

PREVENTORIUM NOW OPEN FOR SEASON

About Half A Dozen Children Go Into Residence This Week

The Gordon Campbell Valley Preventorium opened its doors for the season on Tuesday, May 1st. About half a dozen patients will be admitted this week, and more are expected shortly.

As accommodation is very limited, parents who desire to have their children admitted to this institution are asked to get in touch with their family physician without delay, as he is the proper person to whom to apply for admission.

Donations in kind may be left, as before, at the office of the Kelowna Steam Laundry, Bernard Avenue, opposite the C.P.R. wharf, and subscriptions will be gratefully received by the Secretary, Mr. D. V. Gore, Kelowna. While the Preventorium is off to a good start, funds are urgently needed to carry on the work.

FINANCES OF GROWERS' STABILIZATION COMMITTEE

Expenses Relatively Small Compared To Amount Of Work Undertaken

The operating statement of the Growers' Stabilization Committee as at April 30th, 1934, has been released for publication. This statement, audited by Mr. R. Cheyne, Chartered Accountant, shows total collections to date of $9,451.61, with a cash balance in hand of $872.05. Expenditure is shown as follows:

| Salaries                |            |
|-------------------------|------------|
| Haskins, W. E.          | $1,424.00 |
| Borrett, R. F.          | 557.00     |
| Stenographer            | 306.20     |
| Committee, per diem     | 881.25     |
| Travelling expenses     | 4,013.26   |
| Stationery and postage  | 198.10     |

| Exchange                | 9.85       |
|                         | $8,356.81 |

| Capital Expenditure   |            |
|-----------------------|------------|
| Advance to B.C.F.G.A. | 200.00     |
| Furniture             | 22.75      |
| Total                 | $8,579.56 |

It is estimated that about $2,000 remains to be collected on the levy.

NOT FEASIBLE TO CHANGE B.C. BUDGET

VICTORIA, May 3.—Doubt is expressed here that the provincial budget can be modified, as suggested by Premier Bennett, without calling a special session of the Legislature, which itself would cost $100,000. The cabinet cannot deal with revenues under the Special Powers Act. The budget to which the Dominion Premier objects authorizes a total expenditure of $21,000,000, and he has given Finance Minister Hart six weeks in which to revise it. If B.C. were disposed to accept this ultimatum, which nobody here expects will be the case, it could not be done without calling the House together.

"Many changes will be made and many problems will be studied which will result in much good legislation. At the present time, for instance, amendments are being made to the Bankruptcy Act."

"All provinces are having their difficulties. In Alberta, we have not had

MUSICAL FESTIVAL BEGAN THIS MORNING

More Classes Than Usual Add Interest To Programme—Grand Final Concert Saturday Night

Featured by one of the most interesting programmes in years, the Okanagan Valley Musical Festival opened in the Scout Hall this morning, marking the ninth successive time this event has been held in Kelowna. The official opening does not take place until this evening, at 7.45, when Mayor W. R. French will deliver the address of welcome.

With Dr. Ernest MacMillan, B.A., F.R.C.O., eminent Canadian musician and Principal of the Toronto Conservatory of Music, adjudicating for the music, and Mrs. Barbara West, of Vancouver, for the elocution, dramatic and dancing classes, the Festival opening today presents a varied programme with more classes than usual, which gives it added interest. Total entries are about the same as last year.

Today's programme features open pianoforte competitions, open vocal solos and duets, and the mixed choir open class.

A number of violin classes will be heard on Friday, and also the first of the elocution. The evening's performance will open with selections by the Penticton Orchestra Society, which will compete immediately afterward with the Vernon Symphony Orchestra. The ladies' choir will also sing in open competition.

A big programme has been arranged for Saturday, the final day. In addition to elocution in the morning, day school and rural choir will be heard. Folk dancing, in which there are sixteen entries, will feature the afternoon's programme. At the grand final concert in the evening, for the first time there will be a competition in the dramatic class, and this promises to be highly entertaining. In the juvenile orchestra class, Kelowna will compete against Vernon for the first time. The Spencer Cup competition for the vocal solo championship of the Okanagan Valley will also take place.

1st Kelowna Troop

Troop First! Sell Last!

Edited by S.M.

Orders for the week ending Thursday, May 10th, 1934:

Duties: Orderly patrol for the week, Eagles; next for duty, Otters.

Rallies: The Troop will rally at the Scout Hall on Tuesday, May 8th, at 7:15 p.m. There will be no rally on Friday, the 4th, as the Musical Festival will be then in progress.

We are postponing the date of the Entertainment from May 12 until May 20th. It seems that every year this takes place, because other activities either clash with or come too close to the date we have set, and this year, with four Troops taking part, it is even more difficult to find a suitable day. However, it will allow us a little more time in which to get ready, and this should ensure a better show.

It was proposed at the last annual meeting of the Association that the front of the Hall should be painted and also that the grounds in front of the building should be made into a lawn and a few ornamental shrubs planted there. This would indeed make a real improvement to the appearance of the place, and we have agreed to supply some of the labour in carrying out these projects. It will also fall to the boys to keep up the lawn, once it is established, which will be a very nice little job for the orderly patrol each week.

The marks in the patrol competition are as follows: Owls, 1171; Eagles, 1030; Beavers, 864; Wolves, 806, and Otters, 746.

Scout Notes Of Interest

The Byrd South Pole expedition includes in its personnel twenty-six former Boy Scouts.

Five hundred and forty-seven Boy Scout camps, attended by 13,131 boys, were held in various parts of the Dominion in 1933.

A 60-acre camp site has been placed at the disposition of Regina Boy Scout troops by the Regina City Council.

Practical public service badges earned by Canadian Scouts during 1933 included 1,104 Ambulance Men, 1,021 Firemen, 609 Missioners (home nursing), 337 Public Health Men, 450 Safety Men, 1,215 Swimmers and 411 Rescuers.

According to the annual report of the Royal Life Saving Society, Quebec Branch, Montreal Boy Scouts earned the highest number of life-saving certificates issued in that Province in 1933, with 105. The Quebec Y.M.C.A. was second, with 68, and McGill University third, with 62.

A man with a broken forearm, a car accident victim, provided a first-aid demonstration subject for Welland, Ont., Rover Scouts on the way to a St. John Ambulance Association class. Improvised splints and bandages were approved by the doctor, and helped the Rovers pass their examination.

A German newspaper statement that Lord Hampton, Chief Commissioner of the Boy Scouts Association, would visit Germany to inspect the Hitler Youth Organization, was officially denied by Imperial Scout Headquarters, London. Similar denial was made of the announcement that Hitler Youth Leaders had been invited to attend a Scout camp in England.

RUTLAND

The Rutland Anglican Guild held a very successful Jumble Sale last Thursday, in the Community Hall, Rutland. They had a clear gain of fifty dollars.

Mr. F. L. Irwin, principal of the Rutland School, went to Vancouver in company with Mr. Bearisto, of Vernon, by car on Thursday last, returning Sunday afternoon. Mr. Irwin, who is President of the Okanagan Valley Teachers' Association, went to the Coast city to attend an important meeting of the executive of the B.C. Teachers' Federation.

Rutland will be represented by two teams in the Central Okanagan Baseball League this year, to be known as the "Rangers" and the "Maroons" respectively.

A Curtiss biplane, piloted by C. S. Peene, of Vancouver, landed at the local airport on Thursday last, and the pilot has been taking passengers for flights for the sum of $1.50 a trip. While here the pilot has been staying at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Bond.

PEACHLAND

The annual Clean-Up Day at the Cemetery, which is sponsored by the Women's Institute, was held on Thursday, with refreshments served by the Institute members to all the workers who turned out to assist in this worthy work.

Mrs. Leo Bedford obtained custody of a calf when she sued J. Kolenchuk in the Small Debts Court, before Magistrate Hogg, on Monday evening. A counter claim by Mr. Kolenchuk of $80 was reduced to $10 by the magistrate.

A very small vote was polled on Wednesday, when the By-Law to use the $1,000 in the savings bank for paying off the deficit on the electric light system was lost by the fraction of a vote. A three-fifths majority was required to pass this By-Law. The failure to pass this measure will mean an extra 6 mills of taxation for the present year to clear off the amount owing.

The North Fork dam has ten feet six inches of water in it, according to water trustees F. Bradley and B. F. Gummow, who were in the dam on Wednesday. Very little snow was found on the trail, which is most unusual for this time of year.

Miss Gamble, of the Martin-Gamble Ranch, left for a trip to Scotland and other Old Country points last week.

Very little damage was done to Mr. Gaud's logging truck when he went over the bank at Siwash Corner on Wednesday evening. With 2,000 feet of logs on Mr. Gaud's truck, he got around the corner and jumped over the bank. The truck landed on its side some ten feet below the road but was brought out the next morning.

The sudden passing of R. Hall, a resident of Peachland for many years, took place this week. His body was found by a neighbour at noon on Saturday lying between the barn and house. His lamp was still burning in the house and it is presumed that he went out in the evening. The funeral will take place on Tuesday.

An interesting baseball game between Penticton and Peachland was played on the local diamond on Sunday afternoon, with Penticton winning by a score of six to four. Their big lead was made in the first inning, when they scored four runs, getting one in the third and the other in the sixth. The local team scored their four runs in the seventh inning, when a series of nice little singles brought four runners in.

Next week's game for Peachland will be played in Osoyoos.

H. Keating is leaving this week for Penticton, where he will resume his work with the Occidental packing house.

"REASONABLY CLEAN" EGGS

The revised egg regulations are now legally in effect for domestic trading in all the provinces of Canada with the exception of Prince Edward Island and New Brunswick; and, according to general reports, the new standards are being found much more satisfactory than the old ones. One point which shippers should bear in mind, says the Department of Agriculture Egg and Market Poultry Review, is that all eggs in the different weights of grade A are required to be "clean." Clean means free from spot or stain. There has been some tendency to place "reasonably clean" eggs in this grade, on the assumption that grade A medium replaces the old grade of Firsts. The requirements for cleanliness in grade A medium and grade A pullet are precisely the same as in grade A large. "Reasonably clean" eggs, which in the past went into A firsts, now go into grade B. Cracked eggs are required to be packed separately and marked "Cracks."

Not more than 35 per cent. of the stand of maple trees in Eastern Canada are used for the production of sugar.

For most of the breeds of poultry kept in Canada, a house need not be artificially warmed. If the air is dry and the birds healthy, it is almost impossible to freeze them. A well-fed hen in a dry draught-proof house will be comfortable. A comfortable house for poultry does not necessarily mean a warm house, but it does mean a dry well-ventilated house where no moisture adheres to the walls.

"MEET THE WIFE"

A Really Meritorious Production By Amateurs.

The histrionic ability of Kelowna's amateur actors was displayed to great advantage last week in a most fitting tribute to their talents, "Meet the Wife," which was staged under the auspices of Kelowna Branch, T. C. II, in the Junior High School Auditorium on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. While the attendance was not large at the opening night's performance, a most capacity audiences witnessed the three-act farce on Thursday and Friday evenings. The net proceeds will be divided between T. C. II, which will use the funds for relief work, and the Hospital.

"Meet the Wife" presented an exceptionally able cast in Mrs. Hazel McDougall, Mr. W. B. Bredin, Mr. Bert Johnston, Mrs. Jean Johnston, Mr. L. G. Butler and Mr. H. W. Daniel, with Miss Margaret Aitken and Mr. Ken Shephard in minor roles, and all turned in good performances. There was an almost continuous ripple of laughter running through the audiences from the beginning of the play until the end, and time again individual actors received spontaneous applause for their work as they left the stage at intervals before the end of each act.

Briefly, the story concerns a society matron, Mrs. Gertrude Lennox (two "n's," if you please), who married her second husband, Harvey Lennox, about three months after her first husband, Philip Bellamy, disappeared at the time of the San Francisco earthquake. There was one daughter of the first union, Doris Bellamy, whom Victor Staunton, a flat-footed patron of the arts who, by some freak of nature, was born male instead of a girl, determines to marry. The fact that Doris inherits a fat legacy does not deter him in this purpose, which is encouraged by Mrs. Lennox, with whom he makes all arrangements without consulting Doris, who is in love with Gregory Brown, a New York newspaper reporter.

Complications ensue in the life of Mrs. Lennox when Philip Lord, her favourite author, comes to the Lennox home to lecture at the invitation of that good lady. She discovers that Philip Lord is none other than her long lost first husband, Philip Bellamy. The balance of the story builds up humorous situations in which, one by one, the other members of the family and guests make the same discovery, including Harvey himself. But Philip Lord proves to be a good sport. He rescues his daughter Doris from the clutches of Victor and sees her happily married to Brown, whom Mrs. Lennox had looked upon as dirt under her stylish feet. Despite earlier indications of a reconciliation between Mrs. Lennox and her first husband, things work out to the satisfaction of all—except poor Victor!—and Lord goes away. As the curtain falls, Harvey Lennox is promising that he and his wife move to California, remembering what an earthquake there had done for her first husband!

As Gertrude Lennox, Mrs. McDougall turned in a stellar performance. Her portrayal of a difficult role was handled with a degree of perfection seldom seen on the local stage. At no time did her mannerisms appear forced—she made the part she played real and convincing.

As Victor Staunton, the slightly "goofy" suitor of Doris, Bill Bredin brought to the stage a background of many successes in a similar role, and his reputation did not suffer last week. He made the most of every opportunity and, in much of his dialogue with Mrs. McDougall, was responsible for many of the hilarious comedy situations.

Bert Johnston, in the role of Harvey Lennox, is another player who has scored in previous successes on the local stage, and Bert was in his usual good form. As a sophisticated real estate man, his portrayal was handled

New groups have been chosen for the coming two months, under the leadership of Eunice Sloan and Elaine Durnin. As before, marks are given for attendance at the meeting and for Scriptural response to the roll call, also for the individual scores in the Bible contests.

TEN WAYS OF KILLING AN ASSOCIATION

1. Don't come to the meetings.
2. If you do, come late.
3. If the weather is inclement, forget about the meeting.
4. If you attend, find fault with the work of the officers.
5. Never accept an office, because it is easier to criticize.
6. Get angry if you are not appointed on a committee. If you are, do not attend their meetings.
7. If the chairman asks your opinion regarding some problem, tell him you have nothing to say. After adjournment, tell everyone what should have been done.
8. Do nothing more than absolutely necessary. When other members roll up their sleeves and willingly use their ability to help matters along, howl that the organization is run by a clique.
9. Forget to pay dues, or hold back as long as possible.
10. Do not bother about new members. "Let George do it!"—Salmon Arm Observer.

in a very convincing manner. As Philip Lord, first husband of Mrs. Lennox and famous author, Mr. Butler gave a fine interpretation. His part called for more restrained acting than most of the other roles, and he handled a difficult portrayal capably.

Mrs. Jean Johnston, as Doris Bellamy, brought a most sympathetic understanding of this characterization to the stage. With Mr. Daniel, who played the part of a New York reporter in love with her, she supplied the heart interest. Mrs. Johnston's successful introduction to local dramatic circles was made in "Keep 'Em Smiling," the Gyro Club production of a few years ago.

Mr. Daniel injected into his part all the publicized energy of the big city newspaper man. And he left no doubt in the minds of the audiences that the biggest "story" in his life was Doris Bellamy—exactly the thing his part demanded.

As Alice, the maid, Margaret Aitken played the part well, and Ken Shephard, as William, the butler, "bottled" in the orthodox manner to complete a good cast.

Between acts, the Kelowna Concert Orchestra, under the able direction of Mr. A. C. Guild, entertained with a number of excellently rendered selections.

The scenery for the sets was skillfully designed by Mr. E. H. Emmens, the lighting was handled by Mr. Arthur V. Ablett, and properties were loaned by Messrs. Jones & Tempest.

T. C. II wishes to express its thanks to all who assisted in any way in the production of the play.

It is estimated that net proceeds will exceed $100.

ELLISON

Last Friday night the C. C. F. Club of Ellison sponsored a social evening in the School. It was attended by a number of localites, besides people from Glenmore and Rutland. After a dozen hands of whist, in which Miss G. Watson and Mr. Flinteroff were the winners of the prizes, Mr. Reed, of Glenmore, kindly put on a much appreciated demonstration of mesmerism and hypnotism, followed by a number of sleight-of-hand and card tricks. Dancing followed which continued until after 2 a.m. The music, led by Miss Skinner, was much appreciated.

We regret to hear Mrs. Teather had the misfortune last week to fall down a flight of steps. Mrs. Teather is at present in the Kelowna Hospital, and we wish her a speedy recovery.

Mr. Hall, Inspector of Schools, visited the Ellison School last Friday.

The children are very busy preparing for the Rural Track meet on May 11th.

DON'T LET PHEASANTS EAT YOUR CORN SEED!

Try This Solution Which Mr. W. R. Barlee Has Found Very Successful

Here is a method to prevent pheasants from eating corn at time of planting. Mr. W. R. Barlee has found it to be one hundred per cent successful, and several ranchers in the Vernon district testify to its effectiveness. Soak a bushel of corn in water from four to six hours, then let the water drain off. Apply the following solution to the corn before planting: 1 pint coal tar to 1 gallon of hot water; mix thoroughly, then pour over one bushel of corn, mix thoroughly again and let it drain over night. Then, before using the seed, take two or three handfuls of fine dirt or dirt and mix with corn. This will prevent the corn from being sticky or clogging the planter or drill.

PROTECTIVE VALUE OF ARSENICAL SPRAYS

By H. H. Evans, District Agriculturist, Vernon

[Correspondence relating to this article should be addressed to the writer.]

The insurance of personal property is recognized as an individual and national necessity. Insurance of the food supply of a nation can be placed in a similar category.

It is a recognized fact that the higher the degree of development reached in either plant or animal kingdoms, and the more intensive become the cultivation and breeding of the same, so they become more subject to ravages of pests and diseases. If this factor is borne in mind, the producer will be in a certain degree forewarned as to the advent of many of the pests and diseases of fruit and vegetables which are continually with us; others are more or less periodic and only become of economic importance over intermittent periods.

The Codling Moth And Lesser Apple Worm

These two pests have been placed under the same heading owing to the similarity of their feeding habits and the methods of control for both pests. Wherever the Codling Moth has become firmly established it is annually the cause of tremendous economic waste, and it is very difficult of eradication once firmly established in an orchard section devoted to the growing of apples and pears. In the Okanagan the pest is two-brooded and in some sections there may possibly be a partial third brood. The Lesser Apple Worm is often mistaken for the Codling Moth, owing to their similarity in appearance and the fact that both worms enter and feed upon the flesh of the fruit; both cases ruining the fruit for market. Egg-laying of the moths of these two pests commences at, or shortly after, the blossom period. Owing to the extended emergence of the moths, egg-laying is extended over a considerable period, which is an important feature to be borne in mind when planning control or preventive spraying.

In spray zone areas for Codling Moth control the Department of Agriculture has worked along definite lines, and is obtaining good results from such measures. Growers situated outside spray zone areas should use every endeavour to prevent the spread of these two pests by protective sprays and should not fail to apply an arsenate of lead spray at the calyx stage and a cover spray two or three weeks later; the rate of application is one to 1½ pounds of arsenate of lead to forty gallons of water.

The Oblique Banded Leaf Roller And Bud Worm

These two worms differ from the Fruit Tree Leaf Roller in that they over-winter as partly grown worms spun up in a silken case in any convenient crevice of the tree; so far these cases seem to be impervious to the action of oil sprays. Owing to this feature, we must place our dependence for control in the arsenical sprays. As these two worms leave their winter quarters early in the season to start feeding, early applications of spray are necessary. At least one spraying should be given prior to or by the early pink stage of the blossom, followed by the calyx application. Eggs of these two pests are laid on the foliage in early summer during the month of June. Where infestation is heavy another arsenate of lead application should be given during the latter part of June or early July, depending on the hatching period. No definite date can be given. Two pounds of arsenate of lead to 40 gallons of water is advised for each of these three sprays.

Green Apple Worm, Measuring Worm, Tussock Moth larvae, Tent Caterpillars, and various other solitary and colony worms are also controlled by the application of arsenate of lead as recommended above. It may be advisable to point out a few features necessary to success in combating any orchard pests. They are the correct materials at proper strengths, correct time of application, adequate equipment of high efficiency loaded only according to its average capacity. Most important of all is the best man possible on the end of spray rod or gun to ensure a thorough job.

The combination spray of arsenate of lead, lime sulphur and nicotine sulphate 40 per cent is feasible at a number of spray periods.

Apples in 1933 topped the list of Canadian commercial fruits with the preliminary estimated value of $9,390,700, followed by strawberries, $1,854,200; peaches, $1,100,300; raspberries, $738,100; grapes, $652,300; cherries, $491,600; pears, $473,300; plums, $258,400; and apricots, $66,000.

GROWERS' COMMITTEE TO MERGE WITH B.C.E.G.A.

But It Will Continue Organization Work Until Marketing Plan Is Completed

The Growers' Stabilization Committee will become a committee of the B. C. Fruit Growers' Association, but it will continue with its organization work until plans are completed for the marketing of the 1934 crop. Necessary amendments to the constitution of the B.C.F.G.A. will be made later.

Decision that this merger should take place was reached at a meeting of the chairman of the various committees working under the Stabilization Committee, held in Kelowna on Monday, when the advisability of consolidating the work of the two bodies was thoroughly discussed. Formal ratification will have to be given by the B.C.F.G.A., which has already indicated that it favours the amalgamation. It is estimated that the Stabilization Committee will collect about $2,000 more on the levy on the 1933 crop. Levies collected as at April 30th, 1934, amount to $9,451.61, with expenditures totalling $8,579.56, leaving a cash balance on hand of $872.05, out of which the sum of $200 will be paid immediately to the publishers of Country Life, to whom $400 is owing by the B.C.F.G.A.

The operating statement, audited by Mr. R. Cheyne, was presented by Mr. R. E. Borrett, who was delegated to visit the packing houses that have not yet paid the levy authorized by the growers and endeavour to collect.

Pests are born, but there appears no remedy for it.

HARDY CHRYSANTHEMUMS ARE EASY TO GROW

By R. C. Palmer, Superintendent, Dominion Experimental Station, Summerland

Hardy chrysanthemums thrive exceptionally well under Okanagan conditions. Their cultural requirements are very simple: plenty of sun-light, an ample supply of plant food, and perhaps most important of all, division of the plants, each spring. The chrysanthemum is a sun loving plant, given a moderate water supply, it will thrive in the hottest location. Under shady conditions, the plants tend to grow tall and spindly.

Good drainage is essential. Excellent blooms can be secured from plants set in coarse sandy soil provided they are fed with liberal quantities of blood and bone meal.

With most varieties, far the best results are secured by starting with individual cuttings each year. By April the old plants have usually sent out a number of new shoots at the base of which a few small roots have developed. These new shoots may be cut off and set out in their permanent positions about 18 inches apart, making sure that the soil is pressed firmly about them. Plants from new cuttings bloom earlier and produce much superior flowers to the old crowns, which may well be discarded.

Many excellent varieties of early blooming chrysanthemums are now available. The Massee type, which

Control Of Shippers Is Enforced Under United States Code

The following dispatch, indicative of the power of the fruit code in the United States, is taken from the Wenatchee Daily World.

WASHINGTON, April 21. (AP)—Secretary Wallace today revoked the license of the Gem State Sales Company, of Payette, Idaho, and Valana, Washington.

The company operated under the license for handling of delicious tree fruits in Washington, Oregon, Montana and Idaho. The revocation came as the result of charges made that the firm had violated the license by selling apples at prices below those specified. The Gem State Sales Company failed to defend itself at the public hearing held in Seattle, February 19.

Field Day Near Oil Well Provides
Plenty of Excitement

A thrilling afternoon's sport was witnessed by a large crowd of spectators on Sunday afternoon, when the Kelowna Motorcycle Club held its second meet on the sports field near Kelowna Oil Well No. 1.

The hill-climbing contest proved quite exciting, particularly when one rider came down the hill head over heels ahead of his overturned machine. Another machine caught fire, but the blaze was quickly extinguished.

A motorcycle race on a rough circular track provided thrills for all.

The most exciting event of the afternoon was a balloon-breaking contest. Each motorcycle carried a passenger, to whom was tied a balloon, and each endeavored to break the other's balloon with a paper club. Blows were exchanged hot and heavy as the boys cleverly defended their balloons. Several machines were overturned, and many narrow escapes were averted by very skillful driving. Barring bruises, no one was injured.

Members of the club are to be complimented on the skill and sportsmanship shown in this exciting sport.

THE PREVENTORIUM

The Gordon Campbell Valley Preventorium resumed on the first of the month its splendid work of caring for children threatened with some form of serious illness such as tuberculosis. As its name implies, its work is preventive rather than curative. It seeks to check any incipient symptoms of disease and to build up the bodily resistance of the child by proper diet and healthful surroundings.

The work of the Preventorium is valuable from two quite different points of view, the philanthropic and the financial. All properly constituted people want to see the under-privileged child obtain a chance to survive and become a normally healthy and useful citizen, and he or she must be hard-hearted indeed who can contemplate without the least feeling of pity or the desire to help, some little one doomed to years of disease and suffering through lack of proper food and treatment at a critical time. As for the financial side, if children threatened with disease are not given treatment in time, they very probably will become wards of the province at Tranquille, Essondale, or elsewhere, at heavy per capita cost for the community's share of their maintenance. Every little patient saved from going to any of these institutions not only has a much better chance for a long and healthy life, but will cost the community very much less in cash.

For these two reasons, then, philanthropic and financial, the Preventorium has a very real claim upon the generosity of the people of the Okanagan. It is operated at low cost and its overhead is light, so that the bulk of donations received can be applied directly to the care and treatment of the little patients. Supplies of food, bedding, utensils and other equipment will be welcomed, but a certain amount of cash is also necessary, and those who can spare a dollar or two will feel amply repaid when they realize that they are helping to bring the blessings of health and happiness into some young life.

EXPERTS SCOFF AT MCGEER'S LINCOLN STORY
NEW YORK, May 3.—Expert students of the life of Abraham Lincoln branded today as "a fairy tale" the charge by G. G. McGeer that international bankers were at the bottom of the assassination of the great American president. Pointing out that the bankers supported rather than opposed Lincoln, one of the experts said that the statement brought forward again by McGeer had been proved more than sixty years ago and was found then to be based on perjury that sent its author to prison. "Just an old myth," said another, "probably told to Mr. McGeer by his grandfather."

LONDON, May 3.—Rt. Hon. Walter Runciman, President of the Board of Trade, is expected to inform Ambassador Tsumo Matsudaira of Japan at a conference late today that Britain has completed proposals to restrict the importation of Japanese goods into British colonies. It is indicated that the interview is regarded as most serious in the face of the world competition between Britain and Japan for world markets. In many areas Japanese goods are underselling British and other products considerably, and Japan has made rapid strides forward particularly in the textile business.

been $50 per month and travelling expenses. He now received $150 and paid his own expenses. The grower's salary was $40 per month. Mr. Haskins' own salary was $8 per day, or about $200 per month. Mr. Cheyne had audited the books free of charge.

Asked approximately how much money was available, Mr. Borrett said there was about $3,000 still to come in. (This was later estimated at $2,000.) Nearly all houses were waiting until the close of the McIntosh pool before paying the balance owing.

Representation at Ottawa

It was stated that Mr. Hembling would leave on Saturday for Ottawa to watch the Marketing Bill in committee. The Horticultural Council felt that he should be there as he was familiar with all phases of the question, said Mr. Haskins. The special meeting of the Council at Ottawa on May 9th would consider changes to the Fruit Act and the Marketing Act, and the proposed Apple Export Board would be discussed. The matter of representation at a meeting of the Empire Fruit Producers' Federation in London late in May, would also be taken up. Mr. Haskins wrote to Capt. Burrows, Secretary of the Council, asking him if it would be worth while for the B.C. growers to go to the expense of sending a representative to Ottawa, to which Capt. Burrows replied that he considered the Council meeting of sufficient importance to do so. He was of the opinion that the expense was justified in view of the many matters of vital importance to be dealt with. Mr. Haskins also wrote to Mr. Grote Stirling, M.P., who said that he would be glad to have the growers represented but hesitated to advise them due to the expense.

Mr. Fitzpatrick wondered if it would not be possible to have Mr. Hembling represent all the growers, to which Mr. Haskins replied that he had never criticized the work done by Mr. Hembling, but Mr. Hembling was not an official of a growers' organization. If what was done at Ottawa was not satisfactory to the growers, they would ask Mr. Haskins why he did not go himself. Major McGuire was going to represent the shippers, and the growers as a whole should have representation.

When Mr. Isaacs declared that Mr. Hembling had been elected to the proposed three-man Board, Mr. Haskins said that that Board had never come into existence. He was not anxious to go to Ottawa as there was no fun in it. It meant hard work.

To Capt. Jenkinson, who felt that, as Associated Growers were now supporting the policy of the growers, Mr. Hembling should be able to represent them, Mr. Haskins pointed out that there had always been a feeling that there were two camps of growers—those in the co-operative and those out. There was danger of raising the opposition of one class of growers against another.

Mr. Isaacs had a suspicion that Mr. Hembling was not in favour of a three-man Board and would not get the same results as a man who was, while Mr. DeHart did not think that the growers as a whole would be satisfied with Mr. Hembling.

Before the meeting adjourned for lunch, Mr. Haskins stated that he had written to Mr. Stirling, pointing out that it was essential that the Marketing Act should involve a valley pool and equalization levy. He told Mr. Stirling that he saw nothing in the Act to provide for an equalization levy or pool, and he asked if this could be rectified. Mr. Haskins would have the Provincial and Dominion Acts compared in much the same language. An Act could be passed that was ultra vires in the province yet intra vires in the Dominion.

Some Plain Speaking

At the opening of the afternoon session, Mr. A. Ritchie, a member of the executive but not a district chairman, felt that he should be admitted to the meeting. He implied that he had a few grievances which should be cleared up, and regretted that he did not have his notes with him.

Mr. Haskins declared that Mr. Ritchie had been a constant source of trouble and annoyance, and had done no work of value to the growers. He had done work that had a tendency to split the growers in factions. The chairman judged that Mr. Ritchie had come to the meeting for the express purpose of making trouble.

Mr. Ritchie denied that he had been trying to make trouble. Capt. Jenkinson felt that if Mr. Ritchie had a grievance he should air it. Where there was smoke there was fire.

Mr. Ritchie did not agree with the rest of the executive, said Mr. Haskins. Again taking up the question of Ottawa representation, Mr. H. W. Birch, of Salmon Arm, declared that it was essential that some one should go. He moved that Mr. Haskins should go to Ottawa at the expense of the Stabilization Committee. Mr. East seconded the motion.

When Mr. Isaacs stated that they should first decide on whether or not they were going to amalgamate with the B.C.F.G.A., the matter of Ottawa representation was again sidetracked. Questioned about pressing for the three-man Board, Mr. Haskins said that, in view of the fact that so many shippers had declared that the growers wanted a mixed Board, they had intended to hold meetings this week to ask the growers what they wanted. Every grower he had met wanted a three-man Board.

Switching back to the matter of amalgamation, Mr. Fitzpatrick said that he was willing to see the amalgamation take place on condition that there was no tampering with the B.C.F.G.A. name as the B.C.F.G.A. had been recognized officially for years. Some alteration of the constitution might, of course, be necessary.

Capt. Jenkinson felt that the work of the B.C.F.G.A. should be continued and that the work of the Stabilization Committee should be carried on under the B.C.F.G.A. He moved that the merger take place on that basis—that they become the "Stabilization Committee of the B.C.F.G.A." that the Committee continue its organiza-

TO MY TYPEWRITER

An idea jumps across the brain and gives its father burning pain until to you he spills it all and lets his reputation fall—or rise, as sometimes is the case, and then you see his beaming face!

You take it all, my faithful friend, and seldom do a bill you send. If I dictated to a gal to Annie, Rosie or to Sal the only thought I'd have, by heck, would be to wonder if she'd need!

You see me in an angry mood, you see me when I'm prone to brood, you hear me cuss, you hear me swear, you see me tear my thinning hair—and yet, my friend, you're always there! Your disposition's used to wear.

No matter if the town's in bed, to work at all times you are wed, and when I would fall off to sleep, awake your rattle does me keep. With your co-operation, pard, a wayward scribe's life is not hard!

You take the knocks that come your way, and they are many in a day; you have no temperamental life and after work are not a wife; but have no interest but my own, and great fidelity you've shown!

We have our spats as buddies do, but they are mighty, mighty few. No humans get along so well—I really don't wish you in hell! So disregard my cracks at you, at least until our work is through!

WE LIKE BEING FOOLED

The conjurer who excels at his art has a large following. He is always entertaining because he mystifies us, and most of us go through life without ever finding out where the rabbit comes from that is pulled out of his hat. It is just as well because, once we learn how a trick is done, it ceases to entertain us. We inflict it on some one else and, being inept, do it badly.

Mind reading, in a different category, never interested me to any extent except to find out how the trick was done. So many simple souls are beguiled by the great man or woman on the stage who reads correctly "in his mind" the questions written on pads. He is safe in telling them that a vague something will happen to them next year as he will not be here next year anyway. There is no harm in following this form of amusement if it is recognized as a form of amusement. To go off the deep end and take it seriously is to let yourself in for trouble.

Mind reading is, of course, nothing more or less than show business. With a little practice I could probably go on the stage and do it myself—and I am not a psychic sensitive to thought waves that emanate from the vast interior of miscellaneous craniums in this sector. But success or failure depends on the brand of technique the showman builds around himself.

We like to be fooled. It is fine and it is harmless so long as we never lose sight of the fact we are being fooled.

RUGBY ANGLICE

Some of the Old Boys have been showing neophytes to the game a thing

tion work until a plan had been completed, and that amendments to the constitution of the B.C.F.G.A. be made where necessary. This was seconded by Mr. King.

Pointing out the necessity of changing the constitution, Mr. Isaacs said that the B.C.F.G.A. never had the power to do what the Committee had done in the past year, was a condemnation of the B.C.F.G.A. to meet certain circumstances, another body had to be set up to meet them.

At this point, Mr. DeHart registered objection to a three-man Board of growers controlling the industry, which would be an outrage. He had a big investment in the industry, yet he would be told by them what to do. He would be agreeable to a seven-man mixed Board, which would have on it three shippers who knew the business and four growers to see that the growers got a fair deal. He wanted to see the growers get a minimum price. He could not see why the executive grower-shippers on a mixed Board and one two or three growers on that Board. If they did not, they would be split high, wide and handsome. As far as Haskins going to Ottawa was concerned, Ottawa would take care of itself as there were plenty of men known there to look after things. Every one knew that Major McGuire would play a fair game. He thought that the money the Committee had in hand should be used to pay off the Country Life account. He moved that amalgamation be postponed until it was known what the legislation would be and how they were going to operate this season.

Mr. Williams, of Naramata, said that his district was in favour of the Stabilization Committee carrying on with its work.

THE FIRST STRAW

Yes, we mean the first, not the last straw. And we want to know where it is. We have had summer weather for weeks, yet no one has been brave enough to step out and display the first straw hat of the season. At least, if any one has, it has escaped our eagle eye.

Perhaps the brave man who appears in the first straw will wait until June or thereabouts, when we may have some real winter weather. Funny, but the fellow who steps out in the first boater or Panama usually does it by the calendar and not by sane observation of the activities of the Weather Man.

Personally, we haven't worn a hat for some time, so we can't oblige by sporting the first summer lid. All we can say is that some one is very, very careless, indeed, and is overlooking a great opportunity to be first in something. These days, with nothing new under the sun except the first new straw hat, it's an opportunity that should not be passed up.

B.C.F.G.A., Capt. Jenkinson's motion for amalgamation was put and carried.

When the estimated collection on the balance of the levy on the 1933 crop was given as nearer $2,000 than $3,000, Mr. Fitzpatrick moved that finances in hand and to be received should be regarded as intact funds for stabilization work to safeguard against the work of the Committee being crippled in their activities by paying outside indebtedness. If funds received appeared to be sufficient to handle such accounts, then the executive could use its discretion in the matter. "Country Life"

Mr. Isaacs moved an amendment to the effect that, in order to assure good faith, the executive be authorized to pay the publishers of Country Life the sum of $200 on account, and that an effort be made to bring the account up to date in June.

Mr. Borrett was of the opinion that it would be safer to first find out how much money was coming in.

Asked to speak, Mr. C. A. Hayden, editor of Country Life, remarked that he had been working for seven months and had not received a nickel yet. The growers had tried to give them a good magazine, one that would be a force. It was now being sent to all Members of Parliament, to the Senate, to the B. C. Legislature, to cabinet members in every province, to 215 Farmers' Institutes, to 135 Women's Institutes, to the executives of the producers' organizations at the Coast, to the editor of every daily newspaper in Canada, to agricultural papers and class magazines. A clip sheet was also sent to editors for easy use. The idea was to make the cause of the growers known.

In addition, he had written letters to Parliament members and to members of the Press Gallery at Ottawa, all of which showed what could be done outside of the actual publication of the magazine. The editor of Country Life was in the growers' movement as much as the apple grower. The growers had accomplished a lot in getting the Marketing Act, but they required constant support. He wanted to know if they wanted the magazine to continue. He was prepared to gamble and was not sore because he had not been paid as he knew the money was not available—he had been digging into his own capital. He had contracted with the B.C. Sheep Breeders' Association to make Country Life its organ, and other organizations might do the same.

Mr. Isaacs' amendment carried unanimously.

On motion, it was decided that Mr. Borrett should visit all packing houses that had not yet paid the levy and see what could be done to collect.

Mr. Haskins Chosen As Representative At Ottawa

After a short discussion on levies for the coming season, Mr. Haskins was authorized to go to Ottawa as the growers' representative.

After considering the advisability of holding meetings this week for the purpose of asking the growers what kind of a Board they wanted, it was decided that the whole matter should be left in abeyance until Mr. Haskins returned from Ottawa.

While at Ottawa, said Mr. Haskins, he would try to clear up the matter as to who was to have a say in the composition of the Board to be set up. The shippers' interpretation of the Act was that they had as much right to advance a plan as the growers, but Mr. Haskins did not agree.

Messrs. Fitzpatrick and Isaacs declared that the Act was for the producers. Mr. Stirling had made that statement in the House and it had not been denied.

In reply to Mr. DeHart, who contended that the Act gave producers and shippers an equal voice, Mr. Haskins said that the term "marketers" applied only to such as cannery people, not shippers.

On motion, it was decided that members of the chairman's committee should receive $4 a day and out of pocket expenses for attending meetings.

After Mr. Ritchie had been given an opportunity to voice one or two of his grievances, the meeting adjourned. His chief complaint was that Mr. G. A. Barrat, growers' representative on the Price-Fixing Committee of the Okanagan Stabilization Board, acted without calling together the growers' committee that was appointed to advise him and of which Mr. Ritchie was a member.

It is a common impression that it takes a great deal of time and hard work to make ice cream. Such is not the case. It is a simple matter to mix the ingredients and if the cream is at least 24 hours old and if the salt and ice are used in proper proportions, it is a matter of 15 to 20 minutes before the freezing process is completed.

Here is a poem on chores, entitled "Boyhood's Delights":

I'd like to be a boy again

Without a woe or care,

With freckles scattered on my face

And hayseed in my hair.

I'd like to rise at four o'clock

And do a hundred chores,

And saw the wood and feed the hogs

And lock the stable doors.

And herd the hens and watch the bees,

And take the milk to drink,

And teach the turkeys how to swim

So that they wouldn't sink.

And milk about a hundred cows,

And bring the wood to burn,

And stand out in the sun all day,

And churn and churn and churn.

And wear my brother's cast-off clothes,

And walk four miles to school,

And get a licking every day

For breaking some old rule.

And then get home at night

And do the chores once more,

And milk the cows and feed the hogs

And curry mules galore.

And then crawl wearily upstairs

To seek my little bed,

And hear Dad say: "That worthless boy!

He isn't worth his bread."

I'd like to be a boy again—

A boy has so much fun,

His life is just a round of mirth

From rise to set of sun.

I guess there's nothing pleasanter

Than closing stable doors,

And herding hens and chasing bees,

And doing evening chores.

WINFIELD

On Thursday evening of last week a meeting was held in the Winfield Community Hall to discuss the advisability of continuing a compulsory spray zone. Mr. H. H. Evans was unable to attend as expected but was represented by Mr. M. S. Middleton, who with the aid of a large chart showed the result of test work done at Kelowna by Mr. Ben Hoy. Taking in 1932 five test plots of equal size, same variety of tree and as nearly as possible comparing conditions, by careful spraying 42 per cent worm injury in 1931 was reduced to from 10.9 to 17.57 per cent, according to the number of sprays used. This was further reduced in 1933 on same plots from 1.67 to 3.23 per cent, with a sixth plot, brought in in 1933 and receiving only three cover sprays, showing only 6.75 per cent worm injury. The percentage was arrived at by counting all of the apples on three trees in each plot and then counting all of those containing worms or stings. It was pointed out by Mr. Middleton and endorsed by several growers that the matter of first importance was careful spraying.

After much discussion in which the matter of the calyx spray was well to the front, a resolution was passed by a small majority to continue the zone, this making it compulsory to apply the calyx spray on all apples and pears. Most growers were of the opinion that in this district the pear is not susceptible to codling moth and it would be a hardship to make several cover sprays compulsory. It was finally resolved that the calyx spray and two cover sprays be made compulsory in the case of apples and the calyx spray in the case of pears. A rider in the resolution was to the effect that the zone become effective only in the case of having greater supervision under the Department, and Mr. Middleton stated that they would be in a position to give more attention this year. He told his listeners that the act was strong enough to make the spraying compulsory and that some one would be appointed to inspect the work this year and in the event of anyone refusing or neglecting to spray, such lands could be entered upon, the spraying done and a charge be included in taxes against the land.

The advisability of having bait pots under supervision in the district was discussed and it was thought by many that such test work should be undertaken, though Mr. Middleton said that in his opinion, we would be safe in starting shortly after the time of starting at Kelowna.

FRUIT BUDS FORM IN PREVIOUS YEAR

By J. C. Wilcox, Drought-Spot
Investigation, Kelowna

[Correspondence relating to this article should be addressed to the writer.]

In the winter time it can be seen that fruit buds have been formed in different quantities on different trees in the orchard, and when the blossoms come out in the spring we have conclusive evidence of this fact. The question is, what causes these differences?

It was found out by two men in Oregon (Kraus and Kravhill) in 1918 that the formation of fruit buds depends in large measure on the food reserves in the plant. Some time after blossoming has occurred, the new leaf buds that are forming come to a stage when they can form into fruit buds if conditions are just right. Apparently for conditions to be right there must be not only plenty of food reserves, but they must be present in certain proportions.

If the tree blossoms profusely this year, and bears a heavy crop, conditions will not be right during June for fruit buds to form, and the bloom next year will likely be light, and vice versa if the crop is light this year. If the tree is fairly vigorous, it may of course bloom and set a fair crop every year.

If the tree blossoms profusely this year, and then loses most of its bloom as a result of weather conditions or some other factor, plenty of fruit buds will still have a chance to form; but if the removal of developing fruits is delayed until the regular thinning time, the effects on fruit bud formation are questionable.

HOME-MADE FROZEN DESSERTS

The widespread interest in Canadian homes, particularly Canadian farm homes, with reference to home-made frozen desserts is responsible for a reprint of a bulletin on this subject issued by the Dominion Department of Agriculture. It is possible to make frozen desserts with the ordinary utensils to be found in any Canadian kitchen, and with this fact in view numerous recipes are given for ice creams, ices such as water and milk sherbets, puddings, and sauces, together with full directions of procedure. For instance, cream which is twenty-four hours old is more satisfactory for ice cream making than fresh cream. It should, however, be perfectly sweet and it is necessary, therefore, that the cream be kept in a cool place. If this twenty-four hour old cream be kept cool before freezing, the texture of the ice cream will be smooth and free from ice crystals which are so objectionable.

THE BEE DISEASE PROBLEM

(Experimental Farms Note.)

It would be no exaggeration to say that the brood diseases of bees have been responsible for more losses to the beekeepers of Canada than all other causes of loss combined, for not only are crops reduced, but bees lost, but large quantities of valuable equipment have been destroyed in an attempt to eradicate them. Of the three brood diseases known to exist in Canada—two of which, European Foul Brood and Sacbrood, need not cause the beekeeper any alarm, for they can be fairly well controlled by good beekeeping practices, e.g., strong colonies headed with young vigorous queens of good Italian stock, and a plentiful supply of food at all times. American Foul Brood, however, is a thing that should be destroyed as soon as it is discovered, for colonies infected by it are a possible source of infection for every other colony in the district. It is not an indication of poor beekeeping to suddenly discover American Foul Brood in an apiary, for the infection may be due to some careless or imprudent beekeeper nearby. It would be a poor policy, however, not to organize an immediate clean up of the district. A colony once infected is doomed and is a menace to every other colony within a radius of two to three miles. As the infected colony becomes weaker it falls prey to robbing bees and the disease may be carried far and wide, and the beekeeper himself may unwittingly spread it from colony to colony as he performs his usual manipulations.

Healthy brood lies curled up in the base of the cell and is pearly white in colour. The caprices over healthy brood are slightly raised, intact, and of the same colour as the surrounding comb. Conditions other than these should be immediately investigated and beekeepers are invited to send samples of abnormal brood to the Bee Division, Central Experiment Station, Ottawa, for an examination. Each province has its own bee disease regulations, and every beekeeper is advised to write to their Provincial Apiarist for a copy of these regulations. Never buy bees in hives or second hand supplies, unless sure that the apiary from which they come is free from disease, and never feed honey from an unknown source to bees.

"Look, Joe, both Torchy Peden and Jules Audy ride C.C.M.'s"

"SURE we do, boys. So do many other 6-Day bike riders. Do you boys ride C.C.M.'s too?" inquired Torchy Peden with a grin.

"No, sir. Neither of us has a bike. But we want our dads to buy us C.C.M.'s this Spring," said Joe.

"I wish you luck, boys. I know every boy is keen on owning a bike, especially a C.C.M. If you want to convince your dads how good C.C.M.'s are, bring them down here and show them these two C.C.M.'s that I've pounded away on for 37,500 miles, and they're still going strong. Jules and other riders have ridden their C.C.M.'s just as far as I have ridden mine."

"Gee, that's a great idea. We'll try and get our dads to come."

BOYS! You may not have the chance to show your dads the bikes ridden by Torchy Peden and Jules Audy, but you can surely get your fathers to go with you to a C.C.M. dealer's and see the 1934 C.C.M.'s. There's the same rugged, stand-up quality in them as in Torchy's and Jules' C.C.M.'s. They've all the extra C.C.M. features that make them extra value for the money.

An ordinary bike would crumple up under Torchy Peden's hard riding and would be a poor investment for him. While a boy isn't as hard on a bike as Torchy, every boy's bike has to stand plenty. The best investment in the long run is in a bicycle of real quality—a C.C.M.

Among the citations which comprise the Lesson-Sermon is the following from the Bible: "He not deceived: God is not mocked: for whatsoever a man sows, that shall he also reap." (Galatians 6: 7).

The Lesson-Sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science text book, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Do you ask wisdom to be merciful and not to punish sin? Then ye ask amiss. Without punishment, sin would multiply. Truth bestows no pardon upon error, but wipes it out in the most effectual manner." (p. 10, 11).

GUILD OF HEALTH

"When that which is perfect is come, then that which is in part must be done away."

When we surrender to the Lord of Love, life becomes changed. We no longer think, "what can I get?"—we think only, "what can I give?" Many trying experiences may arise in order to test our new resolve; but if patient and steadfastly met, they do but advance us in our spiritual life and bring us into closer union with the Lord of Love Himself.

Gradually a new nature is aroused, a Heavenly nature. A new man appears, so to speak, the new or real spiritual man. A new character is developed, the character of Christ. Thus do we become entirely changed. It means a new orientation of life—no less. It means that we discover Love behind all events and coming to pass. It means that we enter into peace and certainty, into joy and satisfaction. St. Paul describes it: "If any man be in Christ he is a new creation: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new."

VOLUNTARY WORK ON ROADS TO FISH LAKES

Rod And Gun Club Working Parties Do Considerable Repairs

Three working parties organized by the Kelowna Rod & Gun Club turned out recently to repair roads leading to Beaver and Chute Lakes and to finish work on the carp trap installed at Boyce's slough. There was an excellent turnout of anglers, and considerable work was done.

President Hugh Kennedy and Dan Hill drove to Chute Lake, this time being able to get to the railroad crossing, which was impossible on a trip the previous week. They repaired several culverts in order to put the road in better shape.

The Beaver Lake party got within a half-mile of the pond in their cars, and did considerable repair work.

W. Goodlet, fisheries officer, of Vancouver, has arrived in the city, and will resume the work of running the eying station at Beaver Lake.

THE WORLD'S TOUGHEST TURKEY

Bird On Manitoba Farm Has Killed Two Cats

The world's toughest turkey is strutting around a farm at Roseisle, 67 miles southwest of Winnipeg, on the Canadian National Railway.

The gobble, according to Fred G. Louth, owner of the farm, has already killed two cats, and even went so far as to attack a young girl as she passed through the barnyard. She snatched him over the head with a stick, however, which put Mr. Turkey in his place for a time, at least.

In killing the two cats, the turkey first knocked them unconscious with a sweep of his wing, and then, using his 20-pound weight to advantage, stood on the helpless victims until the life was crushed out of them. One of the cats, calling all its nine lives into play, put up a desperate battle, but finally lost its fight for life.

After the breeding season is over, Louth plans on tossing Mr. Gobble into the boiling pot, and finding out whether he's as tough in a stew as he is in the barnyard.

OKANAGAN CENTRE

The spring meeting of the Okanagan Centre Spray Zone was held in the Community Hall on Monday evening with a good attendance. Mr. Jas. Goldie was in the chair with Mr. R. Cheesman as secretary. Mr. H. H. Evans, District Agriculturalist, and supervisor of the Zone, was present.

The election of the managing committee for the ensuing year resulted in the return en bloc of last year's committee, viz.: Messrs Goldie, T. A. Gray and E. C. Nuyens; Secretary, Mr. R. Cheesman.

Interesting discussion of various problems relative to spraying occupied the time until ten o'clock, the members all being enthusiastic in their determination to spray often and thoroughly.

Owing to some error in the advice last year, the second cover spray was omitted, with results far from satisfactory as the percentage of culls from codling moth rose from something under one per cent in 1932 to near seven per cent last year. Three sprays will be the rule this year with a fourth where possible.

Cards are posted for the May meeting of the Women's Institute to be held at 2:30 p.m., Thursday, May 3rd, at the Community Hall. The main feature will be a sale of "home products," including sewing, fancy work, home cooking, seasonal vegetables, eggs, etc. Following a short business session, Mrs. Pixton will give readings from H. V. Morton's "In Search of Ireland." Tea will be served.

Mr. T. Brooks, of Victoria, is again with the Grays for the summer season.

CLOTHES MOTHS AND THEIR CONTROL

By E. R. Buckell, Dominion Entomological Laboratory, Vernon

Clothes moths annually cause much damage in Canada to materials of animal origin, such as woollens, furs, hair, feathers, etc., and their ravages to articles of clothing, upholstery, piano felts, carpets, etc., are familiar to everyone. Damage by clothes moths is caused by the feeding activities of the larvae of caterpillars of these insects, not by the winged moths, whose principal function in life is to mate and deposit eggs from which the larvae develop.

Two species occur in Canada, the webbing clothes moth, Tineola bisselliella Hum., which is the more common and destructive, and the case-making clothes moth, Tinea pellionella L. The adults of both species are small moths having a wing spread of one-half inch or less. They are similar in general appearance and habits, but differ slightly in colour, the webbing species being entirely pale buff or fawn colour, and the case-making species grayish-yellow or dark buff with rather distinct dark spots on the forewings. Both species avoid bright light and are most commonly seen in dwellings at night, flying in dimly-lit corners. They occur in greatest numbers in spring and summer, but occasional specimens may be seen in heated dwellings at any time of the year. The winged moths do not feed, but during their brief life, which varies in length from a few days to a month, they deposit tiny, oval, pearly-white eggs, sometimes as many as 150, among the hairs or meshes of the material on which the larvae later feed.

The eggs hatch in from a week to ten days and the young larvae, which are very sensitive to light, seek out protected situations in the folds of fur and woollen garments, and the upholstery of upholstered furniture, and commence feeding immediately. Clothes moth larvae have pearly-white bodies and pale brown heads. When mature they measure about one-half of an inch in length. The life of the larvae varies from a few weeks to as long as nearly two years and they may be found in all stages of development throughout the year. As they feed and grow, they moult or shed their skins several times. The larvae of the two species differ markedly in their habits and thus may be readily distinguished. The larvae of the webbing clothes moth move about freely and spin silken threads promiscuously on infested fabrics, often forming unsightly webs. They construct flimsy tube-like silken shelters into which they retire frequently and where they shed their skins and finally pupate before the emergence of winged moths. Larvae of the case-making species construct small cylindrical cases of tightly woven silk and fragments of the material on which they feed. Throughout their life they live within the case, and feeding protrude the forepart of the body and drag the case about with them. Eventually they pupate within the cases and shortly afterwards the winged moths appear.

Control
The prevention of damage by clothes moths requires the exercise of care, forethought and vigilance. Articles of clothing and other materials subject to attack should not be left undisturbed for long periods, particularly during the summer months, in such places as cupboards, attics, trunks, etc., unless adequate precautions have been taken to protect them from moth injury. Articles after being thoroughly brushed and beaten, preferably in strong sunlight, should be placed in well-made trunks or chests with tightly fitting lids, or enclosed in cotton paper bags or in cardboard boxes sealed with paper strips. Wrapping clothing in two thicknesses of strong wrapping paper, taking care to see that the edges are turned so that no moths may gain entrance, is also recommended as an alternative measure. One pound of fresh naphthalene flakes or a similar quantity of paradichlorobenzene scattered among the garments in an ordinary sized trunk assures perfect protection from moth injury. When using cotton or paper moth-bags, one-half pound of either of the above chemicals inside the bag as an additional precaution.

Clothing that is not protected in the above manner should be examined and carefully brushed at frequent intervals during the warm months of the year, or, if valuable, should be placed in cold storage.

Articles of clothing already infested with moths may be freed of the insects by placing them in a tight trunk and fumigating with carbon bisulphide preferably at a temperature of not less than 70° F. This is done by placing a saucer on top of the clothing, pouring into it about three fluid ounces of carbon bisulphide, closing the lid tightly and allowing it to remain closed for at least 48 hours. Carbon bisulphide is highly inflammable and therefore no light should be brought near the trunk while the fumigation is in progress. This fumigant may be substituted by either carbon tetrachloride or ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride.

Whenever clothes moths are seen flying in the house it is important to take prompt measures to discover and remove the source of the infestation before it has a chance of spreading. Often the moths will be found issuing from neglected trunks or forgotten pieces of clothing in attics, basements, closets, etc. Sometimes the infestation will be found in upholstered furniture and occasionally in collections of lint in floor cracks and behind baseboards.

The frequent use of a vacuum cleaner on carpets and upholstered furniture and other articles subject to moth injury has a definite control value. When carpets or rugs are suspected of being infested, they should be thoroughly cleaned on both sides with the vacuum cleaner. The vacuum cleaner also may be used for removing lint from floor cracks and behind baseboards. Moth damage to piano felting may be guarded against by placing about one pound of naphthalene flakes or paradichlorobenzene in open receptacles or suspended cheesecloth bags inside the piano and keeping it closed when not in use. When the house is to be closed for a time, which often happens during the summer months, it is a wise precaution to scatter naphthalene flakes liberally over rugs and carpets, afterwards rolling them tightly and tying them in stout brown paper. Under such conditions upholstered furniture, unless guaranteed against moth injury, may also be treated with naphthalene, and well and tightly covered with paper or cotton sheets to lessen the risk of injury.

When upholstered furniture becomes infested with moths it is often difficult to eradicate them. There are three good methods, however, which have given excellent results and which may be used under different circumstances. When the outside temperature is below zero the exposure of infested furniture or other articles, on a veranda or other convenient place, for a period of several hours, will result in the destruction of all stages of the insect present. When it is not possible to take advantage of low temperatures, heat may be used. This consists of exposing the furniture to a temperature of 130-140° F. for a period of not less than six hours. The third method consists of fumigating with one of the following fumigants: Carbon bisulphide, carbon tetrachloride, ethylene dichloride-carbon tetrachloride or hydrocyanic acid gas. The last method is best carried out in a properly constructed fumigation chamber by an experienced fumigator. Other less satisfactory measures consist of removing the covering of the furniture and destroying all moths and larvae found, and liberally soaking the infested areas with gasoline, observing precautions against fire risk.

When entire buildings are badly infested with clothes moths, superheating or fumigation with hydrocyanic acid gas may be resorted to. In fumigating, not less than 2 lbs. of calcium cyanide per 1,000 cubic feet should be used.

In recent years a number of patent moth-proofing substances have been placed on the market. Certain of these are undoubtedly useful when properly applied, but it is questionable whether they are of much value when used in the superficial manner often advocated.

BROTHER AND SISTER OVERCOME BLINDNESS

Although blind from birth, Daniel J. Muir (1), of McGill has managed to secure two college degrees. A graduate of McGill University, he secured his second degree recently when he became a Bachelor of Divinity at the annual convocation of the United Theological College in Montreal. He will be ordained in due course and hopes to secure a position in a divinity school. A strong supporter of Prof. King Gordon, Mr. Muir helped to raise funds to keep the professor's services. His sister, Miss Mary Muir (2), blind like himself, is a well-known pianist and is attending the London School of Music on a Canadian scholarship.

A team of Penticton ladies will meet the Kelowna ladies on Sunday in an inter-club match.

SOFTBALL

League Got Under Way on Tuesday Evening

The Kelowna Softball League commenced the season with four games on Tuesday night.

This year, there are nine teams in the league and the schedule runs during May and June. Each team will play sixteen games, which means that each team will play each other twice. Two diamonds have been provided in the Recreation Park and two in the Exhibition grounds. This will enable eight teams to play each night. All games are to commence at 6:15 p.m., when the teams must be ready to play, and any team delinquent in that respect will default to the other. The umpires have been left in the hands of Mr. Chas. Whittman, and he will be umpire-in-chief over all the other umpires.

It was originally intended to use the field near the City tennis courts, but it was found to be too rough for the purpose, and from now on the games that were scheduled there will be played on the grounds at the Exhibition building. Will all teams kindly take note of this change and govern themselves accordingly?

The Teams

The following are the teams that will make up the League: Firemen; Toe H; Canucks; Abbott St. Amblers; Ford Garage; Cathonians; Glenmore; High School; and B.C. Dragons.

Tuesday's Results

On Tuesday evening, the Glenmore boys took on the snappy Toe H team in a real battle at the Recreation Park and after seven fast innings the score read 3-1 in favour of the country boys. This is some smart ball for the season's opener. On the other diamond the High School had a hard game with the Canucks and only managed to win by a very close margin, 13-12.

The other two games were played at the Exhibition grounds and the Ford Garage took the Abbott St. Amblers into camp 21-15, while the Cathonians had little trouble in downing the Firemen 32-6.

Schedule for Season

Following is the remaining schedule. The word "Park" means that those teams will play in the Recreation Park, and the word "Field" means that the teams concerned will play in the field at the Exhibition building.

May 4th.—High School vs. Toe H (Field); Glenmore vs. Firemen (Field); Cathonians vs. Abbott St. Amblers (Park); Ford Garage vs. B.C. Dragons (Park).

May 8th.—Glenmore vs. Cathonians (Park); Canucks vs. Toe H (Park); Abbott St. Amblers vs. Firemen (Field); B.C. Dragons vs. High School (Field).

May 11th.—Firemen vs. Toe H (Field); Glenmore vs. Canucks (Field); Cathonians vs. Ford Garage (Park); Abbott St. Amblers vs. B.C. Dragons (Park).

May 15th.—High School vs. Glenmore (Park); Canucks vs. B.C. Dragons (Park); Toe H vs. Cathonians (Field); Firemen vs. Ford Garage (Field).

May 18th.—Glenmore vs. Abbott St. Amblers (Field); Cathonians vs. Canucks (Field); Ford Garage vs. High School (Park); B.C. Dragons vs. Firemen (Park).

The officers elected were the following: President, Miss Gertrude McDonald; vice-president, Miss Doris Leathley; secretary-treasurer, Miss Betty Peck.

The fee was left at the same as last year, which is $1.00 per team. There will be five teams in the league, viz., Junior High School, High School, Cathonians, and two other teams from the city. Captains were selected to look after the getting of players for these two teams.

From present indications softball is going to have a big season.

PATTULLO ASKS FOR RECONSIDERATION

OTTAWA, May 3.—Premier Pattullo today answered Premier Bennett's refusal to finance British Columbia's recovery proposals with a request that the whole matter be reconsidered. In his message, Mr. Pattullo restated the British Columbia case, emphasizing particularly that his administration took over control with the provincial treasury empty.

Meanwhile Gerry McGeer, done with the Banking Committee after talking to them for more than ten hours, has issued a statement declaring that the result of the Bennett-Pattullo parley is exactly what he expected and had predicted in his election campaign.

LONDON, May 3.—Viscount Tredgar died of pneumonia today, only a few days after his return from a visit to Australia. He was President of the National Union of Conservative and Unionist Associations.

BASEBALL

Kelowna Nine Victors At Oliver

The local ball tossers travelled to Oliver over the weekend and returned home with their second straight win in as many starts, after turning back the cantelope boys 14-8 in a free hitting match. While the locals were winning at Oliver, Penticton were doing the same at Peachland 6-4, and Oroville took Summerland for a ride. So in the second week of the league there is a three-way tie for top place and the same for the cellar position.

Kelowna, Penticton and Oroville each have won two games and Summerland, Oliver and Summerland have not yet made the win column.

Next week the top position is bound to change as the locals entertain Penticton at the Recreation Park at 2:30 p.m. on Sunday afternoon. This will be a bang-up game and the leadership of the league is at stake. Be on hand and give the boys a hand. Kelowna is going right after the league championship this year and they are going to make it. Peachland plays at Oroville, and Oliver at Summerland on the same day.

League Standing

| Team       | P. | W. | L. | Pts.  |

| Summerland | 2  | 0  | 2  | .000  |
| Peachland  | 2  | 0  | 2  | .000  |

District League To Have At Least Five Teams

The annual meeting of the Central Okanagan Baseball League was held at the Travellers' Cafe on Saturday evening last, when some twenty-five persons were in attendance.

The President, A. W. Gray, of Rutland, was in the chair and was supported by the Secretary, Roy Hunt.

The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted on motion. There were representatives from Oyama, Winfield, Westbank, Rutland and Kelowna on hand and from the amount of enthusiasm shown at the meeting, it certainly appears as though this year will be one of the best that it has ever had.

Five teams will make up the league, with a possibility of one or perhaps two more. Last year there were four teams and if seven enter this year, it will be the most teams that the league has ever had. For the first time, the league will include a team from the other side of the lake. The Westbank club sent representatives to the meeting who voiced their wish to join, and the league welcomed them because the more players there are the better it will be for the senior teams when it comes to getting a real strong nine.

The financial statement showed that there was a balance of $120 on the right side of the books and that there were no accounts anywhere to pay.

The following teams definitely entered for the coming season: Oyama, Winfield, Westbank, Rutland Maroons and Rutland Rangers, with the possibility of East Kelowna and a team from Kelowna entering during the coming week.

A meeting of the executive will be held this coming Saturday at the Travellers' Cafe for the purpose of drawing up the season's schedule and for other matters pertaining to the league. A meeting of all interested in an Intermediate League will be held before the other meeting, and the executive meeting will commence at 9:15 p.m.

The following were the officers elected for the coming year: President, A. W. Gray, Rutland, re-elected; Vice President, W. Cooney, Winfield; Secretary-Treasurer, Roy Hunt, re-elected. The executive to consist of:

W. H. Hackett (U.F.A., Wetaskiwin): "You are an adherent of the Liberal party. Do you expect to get these reforms through and by the Liberal party?"

McGeer: "In British Columbia we have succeeded in taking the issue out of party politics. I believe. Liberals are as much inclined to enlightenment as the C.C.F., and that is very much. As for my friends on the other side—I have no hope. I have found we have a great task to convert Liberals to Liberalism and Christians to Christianity."

J. T. Hackett (Conservative, Stansfeld): "I approach the questioning of the witness with great trepidation. Because you have been described as 'the redoubtable McGeer,' is this credit theory your own?"

McGeer: "I would say not."

W. Hackett: "Has it ever been put into practical use?"

McGeer: "Deslisle Burke put it into effect in the Island of Guernsey in 1816, setting up their own state bank, issuing national currency with which they built schools, a market, streets and quays, and transformed the place into a veritable paradise. The bankers succeeded in getting back the right of issue, however, by 1837."

The committee voted Mr. McGeer his expenses.

ENGLISH RUGBY

Association Is Formed and Officers Elected

The English Rugby enthusiasts held a very good organization meeting on Tuesday evening at the Rowing Club rooms, when it was decided to form an English Rugby Association in the city. Some forty persons were in attendance and from all reports this game is going to go over with a bang, as all the sports do in our Orchard City.

It was decided to form two teams in the city and these teams will play against each other in practice games, such games to commence at once. Out of the two teams a representative team will be picked to play the other towns such as Penticton, Vernon, Kamloops and others. The club will try and organize a game to be played on the 24th of May in connection with the Empire Day sports being staged by the Gyro Club.

Mr. T. G. Norris gave a very instructive blackboard talk to all present on the game, which was very much appreciated, especially by the new players that are turning out to practice. The officers elected for the new organization are the following: Honorary President, Ken MacLaren; Honorary Vice-Presidents, H. K. Todd, W. S. Dawson, W. H. H. McDougall, Dr. Henderson, and A. K. Loyd; President, T. G. Norris; Vice-President, R. F. Parkinson; Secretary, Max Oakes; and a Selection Committee comprised of the following: George Buck, W. S. Dawson, P. Barnett and F. Burton.

GERRY HAS ANOTHER INNINGS AT OTTAWA

OTTAWA, May 3.—Sharp interchanges took place today between members of the House Committee on Banking when G. McGeer, K.C., of British Columbia, who had addressed that body for five hours on Tuesday, was recalled today for examination.

"It is one thing to turn on the hose and another to turn it off," declared Peter McMillan (Conservative, Muskoka), who moved that the committee go on with its work. This statement aroused protests, and it was agreed to go ahead with McGeer for a short time until members were fully satisfied that they had asked all their questions.

"I look upon the whole thing as nothing but a propaganda," declared Peter McMillan (Conservative, Muskoka), who moved that the committee go on with its work. This statement aroused protests, and it was agreed to go ahead with McGeer for a short time until members were fully satisfied that they had asked all their questions.

McGeer: "In British Columbia we have succeeded in taking the issue out of party politics. I believe. Liberals are as much inclined to enlightenment as the C.C.F., and that is very much. ## AQUATIC RIPPLES

The Aquatic Club is now the scene of much activity, and a busy season is anticipated in all branches of the organization, especially swimming, diving and boating. The row boats belonging to the Association have been thoroughly overhauled and are now available to the public for fishing, the season having opened on Tuesday last.

A few brave souls have taken to the icy depths of the lake but they have not dallied long in its embrace. However, the temperature should now increase gradually from the mark of about 50 F., at which the hardy ones took their initial plunge.

The following are the Directors that are in charge of the various divisions of the Association: Swimming and Diving, Dick Parkinson; Rowing, Lloyd Day; Boats and Wharves, Joe Spurrer; Grounds and Buildings, Bob Seath; Entertainment and Dances, Dr. Thorpe; Advertising and Publicity, W. Bennett; Membership, Bill Pettigrew; Finance, Howard Fairbairn.

one member from each team entered as well as the other officers.

Before the meeting adjourned votes of thanks were passed to the management of the Travellers' Cafe for the use of their room for the meeting, and also to the press and last year's officers.
